Promptly at 10 this evening the doors of the Dispatch office will be locked, the shades drawn and no more subscriptions accepted until 8 a. m. Thursday. MANY VICTIMS OF HOT WAVE

Three Die From the Heat in New York City.

MANY OTHERS PROSTRATED

Ambulances Kept Busy Taking Patients to the Hospital—High Temperature General East of the Rocky Mountains and It Is Feared Crops in the Northwest Will Suffer.

New York, June 22.—Hapless New Yorkers sizzled and sweated while the mercury climbed steadily until it attained a maximum of 90 degrees by official readings at 3:45 p. m., a high mark for the year. Thermometers on the streets ranged as high as 98, and three deaths directly due to the heat were recorded. More than thirty persons were prostrated.

Miss Sophia Mensing, seventy-four years old, was overcome in her home in Brooklyn and died before a doctor reached her. William Bradley, twenty-three years old, and John Link, forty-six years old, were the other victims.

Excessive humidity added to the tortures of the year's hottest day.

In the congested residence districts the suffering was intense, and hospital ambulances were kept busy carrying for the stricken. In Bayonne, N. J., five men were prostrated, two of whom are expected to die.

At Mineola, L. I., during a parade and concert, half a dozen firemen were overcome and several spectators were prostrated.

Washington, June 22.—Everywhere east of the Rocky mountains the country is in the grasp of a heat wave which is smashing June records and promises to continue, with no relief in sight. Unless some disturbance turns up in the atmosphere weather forecasters expect the high temperatures to continue, though they may be lessened from time to time by local showers.

TWO KILLED BY DYNAMITE

Well Drillers Are Victims of an Explosion.

Dickinson, N. D., June 22.—Joseph and William Beaulieu were killed by a charge of dynamite nine miles south of New England at Chester Curtis' farm, where they were boring a well. The explosive was under a wagon and the brothers were getting ready to go to work. Curtis was the only witness of the accident, and he does not know how the discharge was caused. The legs and arms of Joseph Beaulieu were blown off, resulting in instant death. William retained consciousness before he died. He was single and twenty years old.

Joseph Beaulieu is survived by a widow and three children at Alden. He had been on his homestead for two years, prior to which time the family lived in Dickinson. The parents of the Beaulieu brothers reside in Strom, Wis.

LABOR MEN SCORE NELSON

Condemn His Action as an Insult to Organized Labor.

Fargo, N. D., June 22.—The senior senator from Minnesota came in for a scoring at the ready hands of a few members of the Minnesota Federation of Labor in their convention at Fargo, S. L. Fisher of the Minnesota Trades and Labor assembly introduced the following resolution, which dealt with the visit of the delegation last winter to Senator Knute Nelson in connection with labor legislation:

Whereas, the American Federation of Labor or their representatives have asked again and again of the different senators and congressmen for favorable legislation, especially for shorter hours, and

Whereas, a committee, who waited on Senator Knute Nelson to put before him the demands of labor for better conditions, was not received in a way becoming representatives of the people,

Whereas, in convention assembled at Fargo of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, resolve, that we condemn the action of Senator Knute Nelson as an insult to organized labor, and be it further resolved that this resolution be given to the press and also sent to Senator Nelson.

The resolution was referred to the committee on resolutions, and will be acted upon at the final session of the convention. It is believed that the majority of the members of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor will oppose the adoption of the resolution, declaring themselves as opposed to such radical condemnation of Senator Nelson.

Gyroscope Cars.

The lubricating mechanism of a gyroscope car has to be fitted with an alarm to warn the engineer if the oil supply is giving out. If it should the rapidly moving gyroscope would get hot and cut through the bearings in an instant.

Fire in Forest Reserve.

Sturgis, S. D., June 22.—A timber fire is raging on the forest reserve about six miles west of here. It is supposed to have started from a tree struck by lightning. Several hundred acres are already said to have been burned over. Much cordwood is also destroyed.

THE TICKET.

Endorsed for United States Senator—Moses E. Clapp.
Supreme Court Judges—E. A. Jaggard, A. L. Brown, D. T. Simpson and P. E. Brown.
Governor—A. O. Eberhart.
Lieutenant Governor—S. Y. Gordon.
Secretary of State—Julius H. Schmah.
Auditor—S. G. Iverson.
Treasurer—Walter J. Smith.
Attorney General—George T. Simpson.
Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—Charles F. Staples.
Clerk of Supreme Court—L. A. Caswell.

St. Paul, June 22.—The Republicans of Minnesota, at the state convention held in this city nominated a full state ticket after a strenuous day's labor. The 1,073 delegates and nearly as many alternates sweltered in the terrific heat of the convention hall, but the interest was nevertheless keen until the last place on the ticket had been filled.

The immense building was thronged with visitors from all sections of the state. There were politicians of all ages hustling for their favorite candidates through the morning wait for the chairman's gavel to fall.

The reading of the regular call for the convention was dispensed with and the gathering got down to business at once. Herbert P. Keller, mayor of St. Paul, was elected temporary chairman. After extending a hearty greeting to the delegates he sounded the keynote for the party in Minnesota. He said that consideration of national issues was not paramount to the deliberations of the convention. The great practical issue which confronted the Republican party of Minnesota, he said, is the development and conservation of the immense natural resources of the state. Mayor Keller insisted the party should be committed to a just and fair reapportionment of the legislative representation and he advocated the adoption of a policy to universally advertise the mineral, industrial and agricultural advantages of Minnesota.

No Contests for Seats.

At the conclusion of Mayor Keller's address M. J. Dowling of Itasca, A. H. Vernon of Little Falls, Harry West of Benton county and Farley Dare of Walker were elected temporary secretaries. Chairman Keller then announced that there were no contested seats in the convention and all the accredited delegates were seated.

The appointment of the committees consumed but little time. The most important of these, that on resolutions, was composed of twenty-five members, two from each congressional district and seven at large. Ex-Congressman Frank M. Eddy of Stearns county was the first of the delegates at-large to be named and for that reason he was chosen chairman, according to custom.

The recent death of State Treasurer Clarence C. Dinehart was brought to the attention of the convention by Captain Henry A. Castle, formerly a well known Republican leader of St. Paul, who submitted a resolution of sympathy with the family of the dead treasurer. This was passed by the convention.

Shortly after noon the convention took a recess until 2 o'clock, or until such time as the committee on resolutions was ready to report.

Governor Adolph O. Eberhart was nominated to succeed himself by S. B. Wilson of Mankato, seconded by B. H. Timberlake of Minneapolis, amidst the greatest enthusiasm. When the cheering had subsided the governor was escorted to the platform while the band played "America" and the audience stood. In a brief speech the governor thanked the convention and the Republicans of the state for the confidence reposed in him and promised to discharge his duties faithfully and to the best of his ability. He said that he had made no promises during the campaign for re-nomination and had not effected any political attachments. The governor assured the convention that during his fight for office he would wage as clean a campaign as was ever fought in Minnesota.

There were but three real hot fights in the convention, one for the adoption of the county option plank, the other on the lieutenant governorship and the third on the supreme court judgeship. The county optionists lost out in their fight for a plank in the platform and on the floor of the convention. They were somewhat mollified, however, by the victory of Sam Y. Gordon of Browns Valley, their favorite candidate for lieutenant governor.

Judgeship Fight.

The judgeship fight started some lively times in the convention hall. The Iron Range country adherents of Judge Homer B. Dibell of Duluth took a firm stand for their candidate, but were unable to pull him through. Judge Lewis showed up strong on the first ballot, but Judge Brown gained so steadfastly on the second that many of the counties switched from their former favorites to him.

It was long past 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the delegates took their seats after recess. The first business transacted was the reception of the report of the committee on permanent organization which recommended that A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota be elected permanent chairman, and the four temporary secretaries made permanent. This was agreeable to the convention and in a stirring speech Mr. Rockne predicted victory for the party at the coming election.

It was all business from that on. United States Marshal W. A. Grimshaw of Minneapolis placed United States Senator Moses E. Clapp in nomination to succeed himself, and his motion was seconded by Senator Sullivan of Washington county. Hugh T. Halbert of Ramsey further seconded the nomination on the ground "that Senator Clapp is an exponent of the progressive spirit of the Republican party." It went through with a rush.

Three Names by Acclamation.

Then came the judgeship fight. Mr. Spooner of Stevens county named Judges Edwin A. Jaggard and Alvin L. Brown to succeed themselves, and David T. Simpson of Minneapolis to occupy the new place on the bench after next January. The three nominations were made jointly by acclamation. Henry F. Morgan of Freeborn county then nominated Judge Charles L. Lewis to succeed himself and former state Senator J. L. Washburn of Duluth nominated Judge Dibell. Phil

JULIUS SCHMAH.

E. Brown was also nominated. The first ballot Brown received 32 votes, Lewis 417 and Dibell 3. Judge Brown developed considerable strength on the second ballot through many of the northern counties dropping away from Dibell. The count showed Judge Brown the nominee a vote of 367 for Lewis, 166 for Dibell and 544 for Brown, with 529 necessary to a choice.

The real excitement of the day started, not unexpectedly, when ex-Congressman Frank M. Eddy, chairman of the committee on resolutions, announced that his report was ready. The tension had been high all day in expectation of a lively scrap over the county option proposition and when the chairman had concluded reading the majority report everybody felt relieved that the fight was on.

As soon as Mr. Eddy had finished Judge Robert Thompson of Minneapolis read the minority report, which was signed by himself and seven members of the resolution committee favorable to county option. It is as follows:

The Party of Freedom.

"The Republican party was organized to give to this nation a great principle. It has ever since been the party of freedom and the 'square deal.' The Republican party recognizes that there is a strong and growing sentiment in Minnesota favoring a restriction of the influence of the liquor interests in the legislation of this state. This sentiment has been crystallized in a statewide movement in favor of county option. We, therefore, pledge this party to a full, fair, and free consideration of any measure whose purpose is the adoption of county option legislation, and to continue the control of the affairs of this great commonwealth where they of right belong, in the hands of the people."

A motion by Judge Jandison to insert the county option plank in the majority resolutions was seconded by P. J. Youngdahl of Minneapolis in a vigorous speech. He is secretary of the county optionists and made a fervid plea for the minority report which was defeated by a vote of 638 to 449. The convention had scarcely time to breathe when Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul was on his feet with a pair of resolutions, one commending the action of the congressmen and senators who voted against the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and the other reaffirming support of the policies promulgated by former President Roosevelt. Mr. Halbert managed to secure the floor amid the greatest turmoil but the resolutions were voted down by an aye and nay vote.

Gordon for Lieutenant Governor.

When nominations for lieutenant governor were in order S. D. Catherwood of Austin placed W. A. Nolan in nomination. Frank Wilson of Red Wing nominated David M. Neill. Frank Eddy nominated Cassius M. Sprague of Sauk Center. W. H. McBride of Fergus Falls placed Dr. A. B. Cole before the convention, and F. W. Murphy of Wheaton nominated Samuel Y. Gordon of Browns Valley. The first ballot showed 180 votes for Cole,

GEORGE T. SIMPSON.

178 for Sprague, 233 for Nolan, 239 for Gordon and 243 for Neill. While the second ballot was being called the county option forces rallied to the support of Gordon and there was almost a stampede to fall in line for him as the votes were about to be counted. Then Mr. Nolan moved to make the nomination unanimous, which was done with a hurrah.

The contest for secretary of state between Julius H. Schmah and James H. Egge of Minneapolis was so one-sided that before the poll of counties had been completed Judge Steele of Minneapolis moved to make the nomination of Schmah unanimous, which was done on the card and Dr. C. M. Cooper of Chatfield nominated Samuel G. Iverson. W. M. James of Breckenridge placed Robert J. Wells of Wilkin county before the convention. In a heated speech Robert C. Dunn of Princeton, former candidate for governor, told the convention that Mr. Iverson had served twenty-four years in public office and said that should be enough for any white man. On the first ballot Mr. Iverson received 816 votes and Wells 272, whereupon Mr. Wells moved to make the nomination unanimous.

Smith for State Treasurer.

When the state treasurer'ship came up a young Demosthenes from the Iron Range was uncovered. He is James P. Boyle of Eveleth, and he nominated his townsman, Walter J. Smith, in one of the most aggressive speeches of the day. Senator "Andy" Stephens of Crookston nominated Al Kaiser of Clearwater. The Chippewa delegation withdrew the name of W.

S. Carl. Peter J. Schwarz, George E. Hanscome, John Sheehy and William Taber were also placed in nomination by their respective delegations. When Yellow Medicine, the last county on the roll, had been reached, W. J. Brown of Warren almost created a stampede for Smith by announcing that Marshall county had changed its ten votes to Smith. The Eveleth man had received 356 and was somewhat in the lead but lacked almost 200 to win. When the Marshall men changed to Smith there was a rush to follow suit and his nomination was made unanimous.

As Attorney General George T. Simpson had no opposition his nomination was made by acclamation, as was likewise that of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner Staples.

Mayor Keller of St. Paul nominated George F. Dix for clerk of the supreme court and Ripley P. Brower of St. Cloud thrilled the convention by his speech nominating A. I. Caswell. F. A. Duxbury of Caledonia named O. K. Dahle of Houston county. The balloting had proceeded along towards the end when Mr. Dix realized that Mr. Caswell was so far in the lead that he could not beat him, so he moved to make the nomination unanimous. Then the convention adjourned sine die.

SUMMARY OF RESOLUTIONS

Platform Adopted by Minnesota Republicans.

Following is a summary of the platform adopted by the Minnesota Republican convention at St. Paul:

The resolutions commend President Taft and his efforts to carry out party pledges.

Commend Minnesota's representatives in congress for their "united" support of a tariff commission measure; also for trying to procure legislation in the interests of the people.

The tariff plank was the longest. It approves tariff legislation of the sixty-first congress, especially whereby the president is enabled, by proclamation, to treat with foreign countries for the application of a minimum rate; and it "believes in the revision of the tariff schedules in whole or in part, in accordance with the facts ascertained by a tariff commission."

One resolution expressed the profound sorrow of the convention because of the deaths of Governor Johnson and State Treasurer Dinehart.

"Governor Eberhart," the resolutions declare, "called to the executive chair under peculiarly distressing circumstances, performed the difficult and delicate duties of his position with credit to himself and honor to the state."

Reapportionment, for which the whole northern part of the state is clamoring is guaranteed at the hands of a Republican legislature next winter.

Praising Roosevelt for his conservation policy, a plank also commends the efforts of the national and state administrations along that line of endeavor.

Good Roads Resolutions.

R. C. Dunn's good roads resolutions went through flying. One asks a constitutional amendment providing a 1-mill tax, the other for a legislative appropriation at the next session of a quarter of a mill tax and liberal legislative appropriations thereafter.

Better methods of procuring desirable immigrants for the unsettled lands of the state are asked for in a strong plank on that question.

Manual training, rural township graded schools and the granting of liberal appropriations for the carrying out of advanced methods in the schools of the state are urged, along with a proposition for the extension of the agricultural school system.

The next legislature is asked to enact further suitable laws for the protection of laboring men and women in accordance with the report of the employers' liability commission, which will be made to it.

The legislature is also asked to revise the primary election law so as to do away with some of its objectionable features.

Taking up the transportation question the resolutions declare the right of the state and nation to regulate railroads, and at the same time affirm the rights of railroads to charge rates that will yield a fair profit on actual investments.

On the temperance question the convention went on record in favor of strict regulation and control of the liquor traffic, and pledges the party "to a fair, full and free consideration of all legislation pertaining to the liquor traffic and its regulation."

CULLEN-ORR WEDDING

Spokane Review Gives Account of Wedding Which Occurred
June 8th

Among the June weddings was that of Miss Bessie Orr and John E.
Cullen, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Cassius Perry Orr, 1505 Gordon street, Wednesday evening. The Rev. Father Corbett read the Roman Catholic ritual. The ceremony was performed in a rose-bedecked room, where a wedding bell was suspended from one corner and butterflies rested here and there on the bell. Pink roses were profusely used here and red in the dining room, while wild syringas in the reception hall and Oregon grape in the library completed the floral effects. Following the ceremony an al fresco repast was served on the veranda. About 100 guests were bidden.

The bride was attractive in a white satin de luxe gown on princess lines, over which was draped a tunic. Her full length veil completed a charming ensemble with her bouquet of bride's roses.

Her maid of honor, Miss Cora Alameda Orr, wore a green crepe de chine robe trimmed with pearl bands.
The ringbearer, a younger sister of the bride, Miss Ruth Orr, was gowned in a white lingerie frock with lace garnitures.

Arthur Cullen, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Orr, the bride's mother, wore an old rose duchess satin robe and a lavalier of antique design. Its stones were rubies, emeralds and pearls set in oxidized silver.

Mrs. Hugh E. Orr, wife of the bride's brother, wore cream batiste made on princess lines.

Mrs. Elijah Orr, aunt of the bride, wore a banana shade of Salome silk with rich Persian bands and touches of light blue.

Assisting in serving the refreshments later were Mrs. F. C. McBride, Mrs. William Gribble, Mrs. Robert
Hall, Miss Anna McGinnis, Miss Altha
Yokum and Miss Edith Orr.

Their Visit in City

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cullen left today, after a two weeks visit at the home of Mr. Cullen's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Ed. Cullen, for their future home in Spokane. They will visit at the Tyler cottage at Deerwood and will visit friends at Duluth and Minneapolis before returning home.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL EXERCISES

A Pleasing Entertainment is Presented by the Pupils at Opera House Last Night

CLASS OF SIXTEEN GRADUATE

Rev. Father O'Mahoney Presents Gold Medals and Diplomas to First Class Graduated

St. Francis Parochial school had its first graduation exercises last night and the opera house was filled with an audience which enjoyed the splendid entertainment provided. Rev. Father O'Mahoney and the good sisters are to be congratulated on the success of their entertainment for it showed also the educational advantages enjoyed by the pupils in the parochial school.

The stage was handsomely decorated with flowers, ferns and palms. The class motto "Be True" was suspended from the ceiling and the colors of the school, purple and gold, were in evidence.

Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, of St. Francis church, Rev. Father Hanley and Rev. Father McCabe of St. Louis, Mo., occupied box seats. Many of the Benedictine Sisters were present to witness the ceremonies.

The first number was a song by a chorus of 50 girls sung with good effect, their altos and sopranos blending well. In the Indian club drill 16 young boys appeared. They wore dark suits, white sweaters, and had their clubs decorated with purple and gold colors of the school. Their club swinging was done with military precision.

Forty boys sang a song entitled "Rally."

The drama, "Two Mothers" was presented by the pupils and their acting is worthy of much praise and commendation. The moral taught in the play is of a high nature and showed that a constant, steadfast faith is always rewarded, that an earnest, sincere prayer is always answered. As the play is of a deeply religious nature it required conscientious training of the pupils by the sisters and Rev. Father O'Mahoney and reflects credit on their teachers. It is difficult to single out any of the actors for special praise, for all spoke and acted well.

The "Three O'clock Train" was a comedy sketch by Fred Taylor and Jack Mooney, including also the ten foot ghost which had no speaking part but which demoralized both of the little black face comedians. Their makeup and acting kept the audience in constant laughter.

Twenty-five girls dressed in blue and pink went through the movements of a pretty drill. They moved with the happy grace of childhood and were equally as good in the precision of their steps as the boys who had preceded them.

Miss Rose Scallen played a piano selection entitled, "In the Lovely Month of May," in a pleasing manner. Rev. Father O'Mahoney delivered a short address in which he stated it was the proudest moment of his life to be present at these ceremonies, which represented the conclusion of the first year's existence of St. Francis parochial school which had developed into a great Catholic institution.

"The people may speak of their politicians, of their leaders in the army and navy," said Father O'Mahoney, "but no one is prouder than we are of our own sisters who have devoted their whole existence to forming the lives and preparing the souls of these children for the life to come."

Rev. Father O'Mahoney then distributed the diplomas to the following 16 graduates: John W. Prendergast, Philip L. Scallen, William Benda, Gabriel J. Siegel, John J. Hackett, Rose M. Scallen, Mamie F. Funk, Ellen G. McGill, Rose L. Favreau, Gertrude R. Vaars, Clara G. Rappel, Margaret Brady, Mary K. Toohy, Mary K. Taylor, Bertha J. Schellhorn and Mabel Graham.

Diplomas for penmanship were granted to Gabriel J. Siegel, John J. Hackett, Philip L. Scallen, Patti A. Hamelin, Bertha C. Schellhorn, Mamie F. Funk, Gertrude R. Vaars and Rose L. Favreau.

Rev. Father O'Mahoney awarded the following gold medals for excellence in school work:

Eighth grade—John W. Prendergast, Ellen G. McGill.

Fifth room—Frank Lang, Elizabeth Pfeiffer.

Fourth room—Kenneth Ryan, Marie Gibson.

Third room—Charles Taylor, Mary Vogel.

Second room—Herman Koop, Irene Turcotte.

Primary room—Harriet O'Brien, Albert Buscher.

Second prizes were awarded as follows:

Eighth grade—Clara Rappel.

Fifth room—John Vogel.

Fourth room—Fred Taylor.

Third room—Emma Jaeger.

Second room—John Moore.

Primary room—Lorraine Koop, Donald Ryan.

In conclusion Rev. Father O'Mahoney stated that all the children had done well and that the school had enjoyed a prosperous growth. He thanked the audience for its attendance and its appreciation of the program rendered.

For the balance of the week we will sell any copy of sheet music in our store at 10 cents per copy, or three copies for 25 cents.

Tramp Sets Fire to Barn.

La Crosse, Wis., June 22.—A tramp called at the home of William Hinkley on French Island, asked for food and upon being refused, went to the barn and set it afire and then disappeared. The barn, together with three other farm buildings, was destroyed, entailing a loss of $5,000.

PACKERS AGREE TO RATE RAISE

Willing to Pay an Increase on Eastbound Shipments.

WILL NOT FALL ON CONSUMER

Chicago Meat Barons Declare That the Freight Rate Increase Is So Small That They Will Not Advance the Price of Their Products. George W. Perkins Brought About the Compromise.

Chicago, June 22.—At a conference in New York between representatives of the Eastern railroads and the big packing firms, the packers agreed to submit to an advance in the freight rates on their products eastbound from Chicago, averaging 11 per cent, or an aggregate estimated at over $2,000,000.

As the advance on dressed meats figures out only one-twentieth of a cent a pound, the packers say they have no intention of passing the increase on to the consumer in the shape of an increase in prices.

The amount of the increase in rates represents a compromise between the two interests and is the direct result of the "missionary work" of George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. in Chicago last week and in New York since that time, in the endeavor to conciliate the big shippers and the railroads in the freight rate controversy. A strong effort is to be made by the railroads to reach a similar compromise with the dry goods shippers and wholesale grocers, but none of the latter have made any agreement.

Announcement of the agreement of the part of the packers was made in Chicago through a statement issued by Armour & Co. following a long distance telephone message from Mr. Perkins, as follows:

"The officials of Armour & Co., having fully considered the question of advancing freight rates applicable to their business, have become convinced that the increases suggested, amounting to about 11 per cent on the average, are justified by present conditions, and therefore will make no opposition. It is believed that there will be no further opposition on the part of any one interested."

The advances apply only to the rates eastbound from Chicago. The dressed meat rate from Chicago to New York is increased from 45 to 55 cents a hundred pounds, provisions and packing house products from 29 to 33, cattle from 28 to 31, and hogs and live stock rates between Chicago and the Missouri river and St. Paul were advanced 5 cents a hundred pounds in May by the Western roads, the increased rates will affect the entire territory between the seaboard and the Missouri river except over the Allen and Wabash, which refused to advance the Western rates.

Live Stock Receipts Heavy.

St. Paul, June 22.—All June records for live stock receipts were broken at South St. Paul when nearly 200 cars of stock arrived at the unloading chutes at the stock yards. A combination of circumstances, among which, the hot weather figured prominently, was held responsible for the heavy receipts.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because it's for One Thing Only, and Brainerd People Appreciate This

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ail.

Here is Brainerd evidence to prove it.

Charles Ellison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says:—"My kidneys were disordered for years and seemed to be gradually growing worse. About a year ago I was seized with a severe pain in the small of my back and was forced to stop work. The medicine I took helped me, so that I was able to go out in a few weeks, but the trouble came back at times and caused me to suffer severely. About eight months ago I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from a local druggist. The use of a few boxes benefited me in every way and I can now work with ease, having no symptoms of my old complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will live up to representation in all cases of kidney complaint if taken according to directions."

MAY PRECIPITATE A LIVELY DEBATE

Provision of Sundry Civil Bill Causes Trouble.

MAY DELAY ADJOURNMENT

Leaders Fear That Controversy Over Labor Union Clause Will Keep Congress in Session Longer Than They Had Expected—Senate Conferees Will Not Agree to the Hughes Amendment.

Washington, June 22.—That the present session of congress may be prolonged by the inability of the house and senate conferees to reach an agreement on a provision in the sundry civil bill exempting labor organizations from application of the anti-trust law, a fear expressed by Republican leaders. If the bill should be sent to the White House with this provision in it the leaders declare that the president would veto the measure. Just as the way seemed clear for an early adjournment an obstacle has appeared that may lengthen the life of the session, and possibly result in a bitter debate as to the justice or injustice of enforcing the Sherman anti-trust law against labor unions and labor leaders.

The mixup over the labor union provision developed in the house. Representative Tawney, chairman of the committee on appropriations, presented the conference report on the sundry civil bill. A motion was made by Representative Hughes exempting labor unions from the operation of the anti-trust law. Much to the surprise of the leaders this motion prevailed by a vote of 153 to 105. Many regular Republicans representing districts in which labor is well organized voted to instruct the house conferees on this point. The Hughes amendment was included in the sundry civil bill when that measure was passed by the house. It was made a part of the section providing an appropriation of $200,000 to enable the attorney general to enforce cases brought under the anti-trust law. The Hughes amendment reads as follows:

"No part of any organization or individual for entering into any combination or agreement having in view the increasing of wages, shortening of hours or bettering the condition of labor for any act done in the furtherance thereof shall be held unlawful."

Leaders Are Worried.

The leaders are worried over the situation. The senate conferees have given notice that under no circumstance will they agree to the Hughes amendment. The house conferees are bound by the action of the house and cannot recede without bringing themselves into contempt.

If the leaders should determine to fight the Hughes amendment a hot debate would undoubtedly follow. There is danger that the sundry civil bill may fail. It carries an appropriation of approximately $127,000,000. It provides funds for every branch of the government, including public works of all kinds. The expenditures authorized become available July 1. If for any reason the bill should fail to pass by June 30, it would be necessary for congress to pass a joint resolution re-enacting the present law providing moneys for sundry civil expenses.

A conference of house and senate leaders was held to determine upon a course of action relative to the sundry civil bill. No conclusion was reached. The house conferees will report that the senate conferees still refuse to agree to the senate amendment. Whether the discussion will result in a reversal of the vote remains to be seen. There was no straight party division on the Hughes amendment. Democrats joined Republicans in voting against it. Leaders say that it is useless to put the sundry civil bill up to the president with the Hughes amendment part and parcel of it.

The president is said to be on record in opposition to exempting any class of organization from the operation of the anti-trust act. The leaders insist that any bill containing such a provision sent to the president for approval would be promptly vetoed.
